

Susan M. Brooks is the Executive Director of the IEEE Communications Society, a global organization of over 32,000 engineer members.

Prior to IEEE, Susan led a 20K plus member non-profit and held various leadership positions within Motorola and AT&T. Her roles included marketing, strategy and planning, sales, program management, contracts, training, and technical publications.

Susan currently sits on the Executive Committee of the Greater Raritan Workforce Investment Board (a New Jersey Freeholder appointed position) and is the Chair of the One Stop Operator Committee. She is a past nine year member of the USO's World Board of Governors.